

Figure 50: Sensitivity and specificity of vomiting for diagnosing adrenal insufficiency (serum cortisol < 500nmol/L after low dose (1 µg/ml) short corticotropin (Synacthen®) stimulation test in people with suspected TB

Figure 51: Sensitivity and specificity of vomiting for diagnosing adrenal hypofunction (all cortisol measurements <18 µg/dL including 1 µg/mL ACTH test) in people with AIDS

